Strategic Brand Management

Introduction

Branding is how companies distinguish their product offerings from the competition. A brand is created by developing a distinctive name, package, and design and arousing customer expectations about the offering. This Strategic Brand Management course tackles all the competencies needed to build a strong organizational brand and evaluate its performance and perceptions in the marketplace. It also details brand management's role in the strategic marketing process, the steps of the consumer adoption process, the different types of branding strategies, and the signs that can indicate a troubled branding strategy.

Course Objectives of Effective Brand Management

- Define brands and understand their opportunities and challenges in highly competitive business landscapes.
- Plan and craft a powerful brand positioning statement that reflects the brand promise and the expectations of its most valued customers.
- Build strategic brand growth and track its sustainability using researched processes.
- Explore the elements of brand equity and the constituents of brand identity to build consistent and sustainable brands.
- Identify various branding strategies to develop sound actions aligned with the status of existing and new markets and products.
- Master the process for conducting a full brand audit to evaluate brand performance and take remedial actions.
