Public Policy Challenges of the 21st Century Masterclass

Ref: 322323_195611 Date: 15 – 19 February 2027 Location: Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia) Fees: 4900 GBP

Why This Course

In today's rapidly changing world, public policy is shaped by challenges that are increasingly global, interconnected, and difficult to address through traditional approaches alone. Issues such as economic inequality, climate change, digital disruption, migration, and cybersecurity demand stronger analytical thinking, better stakeholder coordination, and more adaptive policy responses. Professionals working in policy environments must be able to understand complexity, evaluate competing priorities, and design responses that are both practical and forward-looking.

This intensive 1-week course examines the most pressing public policy challenges of the 21st century. Participants will gain a deep understanding of complex global issues, develop analytical skills for policy evaluation, and learn strategies for effective policymaking and advocacy. The course combines theoretical frameworks with practical case studies to prepare professionals for addressing contemporary policy challenges.
