Ref: 322598_205495 Date: 21 – 25 December 2026 Location: Tokyo (Japan) Fees: 5900 GBP

Why This Course

Supervisors play a critical role in connecting organizational strategy with day-to-day performance. They are expected to guide teams, manage expectations, solve problems, communicate clearly, and maintain productivity in a workplace that is constantly changing.

Effective supervision is not only about assigning tasks. It requires leadership presence, emotional intelligence, communication skills, performance management capability, and the confidence to handle people-related challenges professionally. A strong supervisor can motivate employees, build trust, resolve conflict, support development, and create a positive team environment that contributes directly to organizational success.

This intensive 1-week course equips supervisors with the essential skills needed to lead effectively in today's dynamic workplace. Through interactive discussions, practical exercises, workplace scenarios, and action planning, participants will develop the tools and confidence to manage teams, improve performance, and support continuous improvement.
